If an individual is registering for a 2nd or 3rd league during the championship year and their computer or self-rating has expired the system will check to see if there are two(2) or more current dynamics in the championship year. If Yes, the system will assign a start rate based on the most current dynamic rather than asking the player to self-rate.

TennisLink will automatically remove expired computer and self ratings thereby allowing individuals to self-rate.

Computer ratings are valid based on the above chart.

Self-ratings are valid for 1 year from the month issued or until replaced by a dynamic or computer rating.
